Tell your cabin, "I'm coming home." 20 Miles Back You Put Out Your Own Welcome Mat.

First thing on a cold winter morning, you're off to work, shop or run a few errands. Being an energy-conscious homeowner, you first turn down the heat, turn off the TV's, sound system and lights, and make sure the gas fireplace isn't blazing.

During the day, the snow and the temperatures begin to fall. Before you head home, you reach for your automated remote home control. With a few taps on your "private butler," you turn up the heat, lights and music. Another tap and the fireplace is roaring. As you turn into the drive, you smile as your home glows warmly against the evening sky. It's one of the simple pleasures of living in a Blue Ridge Log Cabin.

With a Blue Ridge home, you have the rustic charm of a real log structure, with the latest in comfort and convenience. It's the best of both worlds.
